

BRONZE CABINET PULLS

To address the design community's developing sense of style for outdoor kitchens, Denver Stainless Kitchens is offering a collection of cabinet pulls made from solid cast bronze in 5 rich finishes. When combined with the variety of color & door options, a unique style statement can be made with each installation.

Patinas can be applied, or can naturally happen as oxidation occurs. Repeated handling will lead to graceful wear, which is an inherent quality of the bronze. As with any hand-applied patina, color variations should be expected, lending character and distinction to the design. Consider these bronze pulls jewelry for the cabinet.
