POWDER COAT FINISHES

Each component of our powder coated doors is painted prior to assembly, eliminating direct exposure of the stainless steel to the environment. This hinders the chance for rust over time and provides a nearly maintenance free finish. Danver Stainless Outdoor Kitchens has 14 rich hues from which to choose, providing a broad range of opportunities for design and style. In addition, we offer realistic wood grain powder coat finishes, enhancing the design quality of your outdoor living space by providing the look and style of real wood without the wear and maintenance. Our standard colors are the most popular finishes. In addition to our exclusive powder coat finishes, we can also special order almost any color that is suitable for outdoor use.
